The CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL LEGAL STUDIES is pleased to certify your evaluation of 3 memorials as part of the Global Rounds of the Foreign Direct Investment International Arbitration Moot 2020.

*Each Memorial was approximately 16,000 words in length, including cover page, table of contents, index, list of authorities, footnotes or other material. All submitted memorials can be accessed at <http://fdimoot.org/Archive/2020/>.

Until the Solicitor's Regulation Authority of England and Wales (SRA) amended its Continuing Professional Development (CPD) regulations requiring CPD and accrediting CPD providers in November 2014, the SRA had recognised the Center for International Legal Studies as an accredited CPD provider. Consequently, the Center for International Legal Studies was recognised under the approved jurisdiction rules for Continuing Legal Education Credit (CLE) by the States of New York and California. We trust that lawyers may easily qualify for CLE/CPD credits on the basis of individual attorney application, especially in light of CILS' record as a recognized CPD/CLE provider.
